

From Concept Design to Complete Project Management

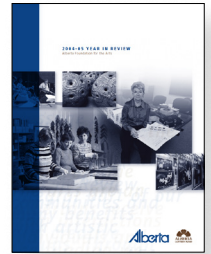

Design Quarry Print + Digital Solutions Ltd.

A full-service graphic design studio, Design Quarry is customer focused to promptly produce innovative print and digital materials that meet clients' needs. By carefully listening to the clients and paying close attention to detail, Design Quarry is able to create extraordinary communication materials that will set your business or organization apart from the rest.

Principal Designer, Jack Born, loves what he does and ensures that all creative work meets his high standards, developed through his international design education and experience. Jack completed a five-year advanced graphic design program in the Netherlands and worked at well-known studios in both Amsterdam and New York before setting up his own shop in Edmonton.

Design Quarry takes pride in taking a variety of projects, both large and small, from concept design to complete project management. Its ever-growing list of clients have ordered a diverse range of design materials – including annual reports, newsletters, brochures, trade show displays, catalogues, packaging and visual identity programs. Samples of these and other design solutions are provided below. An overview of more digital and print materials created by Design Quarry, as well as praise from their clients is provided at www.designquarry.com.

Clients are treated like family and Design Quarry is dedicated to helping their businesses grow and flourish. Call soon, so we can help your organization look its best!
